

End of Year Review July 2023

I was a really different person back when I started because I really struggled with reading because I used to take a long time to read a word and some of the words I struggled understanding. I struggled with communication because I struggled talking and getting my words across and I struggled with talking to my friends and family. I had low confidence and I used to hide under tables and I used to really struggle with making friends and communicating with them. I really struggled with my Maths and English and I used to struggle with saying my opinions. I used to really struggle talking about my feelings and emotions and I used to really hate school so much when I first started. Sometimes I would overthink some things at certain times and I could not focus on my work. I have learnt I am resilient, motivated and I am really hard working. I am passionate about my work and my friends. I am passionate about school and I am more confident than I thought. I have the potential inside and I really like school.

I am a completely different person from when I started here because I can read faster, write smaller, write neater and make friends better. I am more confident than I was back then and I am a lot more focused on my work than I was. I have finished my Entry Level 3 Maths because I stayed after school some days to finish all my units. I have finished my Entry Level 3 qualification for English and I have finished my Level 1 Science qualification. I am a lot better at communicating because I go to after school club and I get to socialise with my peers and my friends. I am a lot better at reading and writing. I am a lot better at talking about my feelings and emotions and I am a lot better at sharing my opinions and facts. All the teachers helped me to do my best at everything I set my mind to and they have helped me to get my confidence up. They have helped me to do great, amazing things and they have helped me to achieve all my qualifications. All of the teachers are just amazing, kind, fun, funny, awesome and they are the best teachers anyone could wish for and they are one of the best things in my life.
